Author eligibility workflow

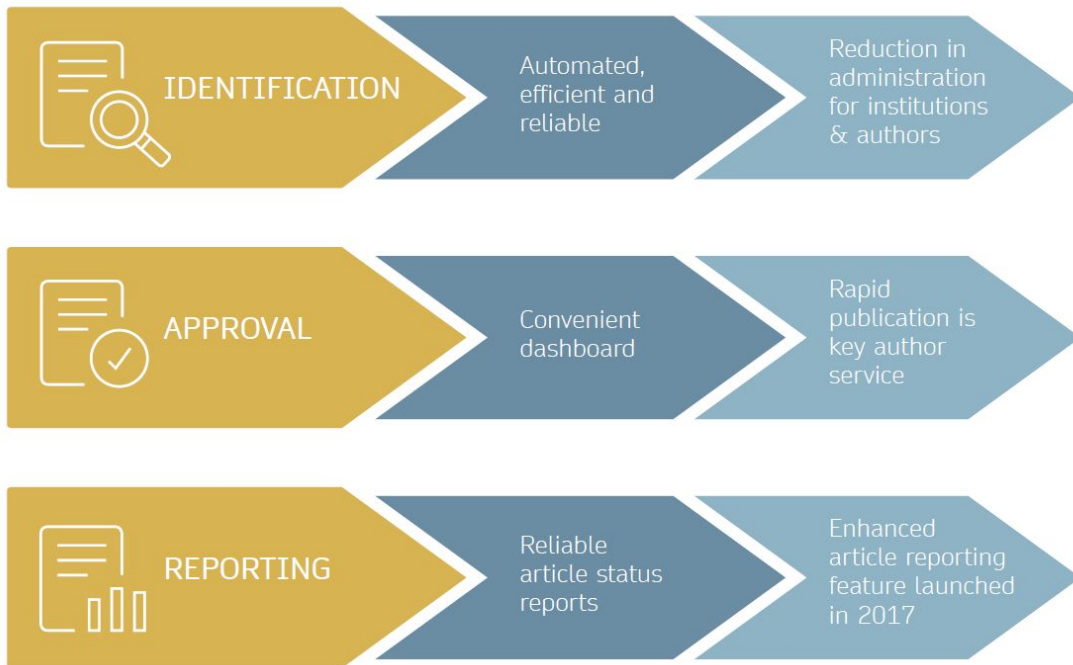

Introduction to Open Access Publishing Services

OA workflows: More than a platform

Reliable, customizable, and efficient workflow, reducing costs & admin efforts for authors and institutions

Open access publishing process

Submission

Manuscript is submitted

Submitting author provides e.g. FundRef and ORCID information, article category is assigned

Peer review is conducted in the following

Editorial Acceptance

After editorial acceptance, the corresponding author is able to identify themselves as affiliated to a member institution

Identification

OA agreement specific eligibility check: in-scope journals, article types

Corresponding author identifies themselves as connected to a member institution

Verification

Identified article is sent to the member institution's article approval service accounts for final verification of eligibility

Publication

The author can now complete the remainder of the production process and the article is published open access

An OA funding note is added (if applicable)

Author journey after editorial acceptance

Once an article has been editorially accepted, authors will be able to identify themselves as being affiliated with a relevant institution

Once an author's eligibility is confirmed by the institution, the article is published open access

In case of rejection, the author has the option to publish open access with their own funding or publish traditionally non-open access

To find lists of eligible journals, please visit our Institutional Agreements website:
springernature.com/gp/open-research/institutional-agreements

Author/article identification

After article acceptance, the corresponding author receives an invitation to complete the publication process for the article and the authors are able to identify themselves:

Corresponding author/article identification parameters:

1. Selected institution
2. Email domain recognition
3. IP recognition

Selected Institution 	Institutional Email 	Location
Please input your institutional affiliation when prompted.	Please use your institutional email address.	Please complete the form while within your institution's network.

A hierarchy is applied to the identification parameters in the order above

When completing the identification phase, the corresponding author will be prompted to type in their institution and then select it from a dropdown list. The email domain and the IP address will instead be picked up by the system automatically

Author/article identification

An author identifies themselves by using the following identification parameters:

For example:

1. Selected institution: University of Lisbon
2. Email domain recognition: University of Vienna
3. IP recognition: Cairo University

→ ‘Selected institution’ is the strongest parameter.
The author is identified as being affiliated with the University of Lisbon

Author identified by

Selected institution  University of Vienna

Author email

IP address

Author identified by

Selected institution  Medical University of Vienna

Author email  Medical University of Vienna

IP address  Medical University of Vienna

Author journey after editorial acceptance

Email invite to complete process

Once the article is editorially accepted, the corresponding author receives an invitation to complete the publishing agreement

SPRINGER NATURE

Dear Dr. Charles Darwin

We're delighted that your article has been accepted for publication: 'The zoology of the voyage of H.M.S. Beagle'.

You now need to:

- Provide details to help us check whether your article processing charge (APC) is covered by your institution or a journal partner.
- Read and accept your publishing agreement.
- Make a payment if the APC is not covered.

If you want to publish subscription, instead of open access, there will be an option to do that in the following steps.

Continue with publishing your article:

OA information page

Authors are given basic information about publishing their article open access, including the Article Processing Charge (APC)

Open access

Publishing open access with us (gold OA) lets you share and re-use your article immediately after publication.

The article processing charge (APC) to publish your article open access is:

Article processing charge (excluding local taxes)	£3780.10 / $4080.50 / €4120.90
---	---------------------------------

Some organisations will pay some or all of your APC.

We will now check whether your APC is covered by any of our agreements.

If you want to publish subscription, instead of open access, there will be an option to do that in the following steps.

Confirm affiliation

Authors will be asked to confirm the affiliation they provided on submission for eligibility

If they have moved or it is incorrect they can change it - changing affiliation here only affects identification for open access agreements, not the affiliation listed on the published article

Institution or university

During manuscript submission you told us you're affiliated with the following institution:

University of Edinburgh
Edinburgh – United Kingdom

Is this still correct?

Yes, University of Edinburgh is the institution I'm affiliated with

No, I've changed institution

Institutional selection

Authors are asked to select their institution and the system will use this to identify any agreements they may be eligible for - the other identifiers, email domain and IP range, are picked up automatically

If authors select an eligible institution and are publishing an appropriate article type in an included journal, they will have the opportunity to ask the institution to cover their publishing costs

Institution or university

Select the institution you are currently affiliated with. If you have more than one current affiliation, choose the one where you completed the research for this article.

Publishing model choice

If an author does not have an agreement available to cover the costs of publication, they will be given the option to either publish subscription or pay for open access using other funds

If they select open access, they will have the opportunity to provide billing details

Publish open access

Journal of Research offers you the opportunity to publish your article open access.

Publishing open access offers a number of benefits:

- Increased researcher engagement
- Higher visibility and greater impact
- Easy compliance with mandates
- The copyright remains with you

You can learn more about the benefits of publishing open access here.

Many funders and institutions mandate and finance open access publishing. To find out if you have access to funds that will allow open access publication at no cost to you, please take a look at our OA funding database here or contact your librarian.

If your research is supported by a funder that requires immediate open access (e.g. according to Plan S principles) then you should select the open access publishing route. For authors selecting the subscription publishing route, the journal's standard licensing terms will need to be accepted, including self-archiving policies. Those licensing terms will supersede any other terms that the author or any third party may assert apply to any version of the manuscript.

Should you choose to publish open access below, an article-processing charge (APC) will apply, with the currency charged dependent on the billing country of the invoiced party and subject to local taxes where applicable. Learn more about APCs.

Please select your publishing model:

- Publish open access (APC £3780.10 / $4080.50 / €4120.90 + tax)
- Publish subscription
